

American String Teacher's Association of New Jersey
String Symposium 2011 at New Jersey City University

Jersey City, New Jersey
Friday, October 28, 2011

For Immediate Release

Contact:
Mimi Butler
March 7, 2011
mimibutler@aol.com
856-795-4285

The Thirteenth Annual ASTAINJ String Symposium: Excellence in Studio and School String Teaching!

The Thirteenth Annual ASTA/NJ String Symposium will take place on Friday, October 28, 2011 at New Jersey City University in Jersey City, NJ. The ASTA/NJ String Symposium offers New Jersey teachers a full day of events, equally promoting both traditional and alternative styles in string performance and education. We are excited to announce that this year's clinicians will include String Technology Expert Joe Brennan, Luthier Erika Safran Sayar, Conductors Karen Pinoci and Jim McCrann, and String Pedagogues Elizabeth Faidley, Eugenia Goldman, Leslie Webster and Barbara Greenberg. Teachers are encouraged to participate in junior and senior high All-State solo master classes conducted by top music educators. This year's reading session will feature an orchestra arrangement giveaway for all participants. Professional Development Certificates will be awarded. Registration forms and pricing are available at astanj.com. Lunch buffet optional.